Reinvent Yourself with Olin

You were trained to lead during your military career. The lives of your soldiers and success of your missions depended on your performance. And on your integrity. Now you want to take your training and talent to the business world.

OLIN EXECUTIVE MBA PROGRAM
For more than 30 years, Olin’s Executive MBA (EMBA) program has promoted excellence and innovation in management education. To date, 2,503 alumni from a broad spectrum of industries and organizations have opened doors to professional opportunities with their EMBA degree.

CURRICULUM DESIGNED TO LEVERAGE YOUR EXPERIENCE
The themes covered in Olin’s EMBA curriculum, which were developed with our corporate partners, will prepare you for big-picture management challenges and top-level positions.

The first-year curriculum covers foundational business core topics such as Business Analytics and Decisions, Financial Accounting, Strategic Cost Accounting and Control, and Business and Government. Second-year courses focus on innovation, creativity, growth, and sustainability, as well as global and emerging markets. Our faculty members are outstanding thought innovators in the business world who care deeply about the subject matter they teach.

Olin also provides numerous resources to assist with your transition to the business world, including exercises, measurements, assessments, feedback, and classroom practice.

CAREER COACHING
Redeﬁne your personal brand, and take command of your civilian career. One-on-one executive coaching sessions help you transition your strengths and military accomplishments into professional opportunities.

OLIN VETERANS ASSOCIATION
The Olin Veterans Association (OVA) helps military veterans transition to the business world. Networking events are open to EMBA students, and are a great place to meet Olin alumni and friends with senior military backgrounds. In addition, the global Washington University alumni community is 135,000 strong and growing, and includes high-achieving, collaborative cohorts with more than 500 years of collective professional experience.

LIFELONG ENGAGEMENT
At Olin, we are committed to your lifelong learning. You can attend Thought Leadership Webinars and Leadership Perspectives events to stay on top of recent trends and insights, and keep your skills sharp.

MILITARY-FRIENDLY COMMUNITY
Washington University is committed to the Yellow Ribbon Program and remains a proud program partner. And you’ll be well represented at Olin. Senior military officers are valuable members of each EMBA cohort.

“Veterans are a high priority at Olin, and their career transition is supported in ways matched by only a few other schools. As a former US Army ordnance officer, I speak from personal experience. Here’s what I say to my colleagues in the military: ‘Never underestimate the scale of positive change you can go through in the Executive MBA program.’”

Steve Degnan, MBA 2008
Chief Human Resources Officer
Nestlé Purina PetCare, North America

Tuition Benefits
Washington University proudly supports the Yellow Ribbon Program, through which the US Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) and participating universities match dollar-for-dollar qualiﬁed tuition amounts. Honorably discharged US veterans who have logged at least 36 months of active duty post-9/11 could be eligible for 100% tuition beneﬁts. The bottom line is Olin Business School’s tuition may be paid in full for those who qualify.

For assistance with tuition beneﬁts, contact Kyle Cronan, Associate Director of Graduate Business Financial Aid, at 314-935-6610 or cronan@wustl.edu.
“The business world isn't standing still, and it certainly isn't getting less complex. Breadth and depth of experience are critical in a global marketplace. Olin's Executive MBA program prepared me with the best of both.”

Shelley Lavender, EMBA 2003
President, Boeing Military Aircraft, Boeing Defense, Space & Security, Boeing

“I enrolled in the Executive MBA program to expand my individual skill set, and to scale and market it to the civilian world. Every aspect of the curriculum moves me a little closer to that goal. I'm learning the language of business: branding, pricing, cost-benefit analysis. As a result, I can evaluate practices through the lens of profitability. The EMBA program helps me leverage my past and expect great things from my future.”

Eric Maddox, EMBA 2016
US Army veteran, author, security consultant, and motivational speaker

Three US Campus Locations

Olin designed the 20-month program for executive-level schedules. Classes meet monthly for three-day sessions, making travel manageable from all parts of the nation. Olin’s Executive MBA program has US campuses in St. Louis, Kansas City, and Denver. Olin’s senior faculty members teach Olin executive students across all campuses and concentrate on a curriculum focused on leadership, enterprise-wide management, and strategic decision making.

NOTE: The Kansas City and Denver campuses offer first-year courses only. You begin the program with GO! Week in St. Louis, and return to St. Louis for the Leadership Residency and second-year, theme-based courses.
